Film Broken Hill to Attend International Cineposium

Film Broken Hill's recently appointed Film Officers Sean Fargher and Kathy Kennewell will attend the Association of Film Commissioner's annual Cineposium 2002.

The Cineposium, to be attended by Film Officers from around Australia and the world, will provide instruction and discussion about how local communities can best attract and benefit from film production in their home towns.

The 2002 conference, to be held on the Gold Coast, is the only the second to be held out of the USA and the first ever to be held in the southern hemisphere.

The Film Officers are attending the conference with financial assistance provided by the NSW Film & Television Office and the Far Western Regional Development Board. With in kind support from The Broken Hill City Council

Film Broken Hill's Project Coordinator said " The conference will provide a fabulous opportunity for Sean & Kathy to discuss the challenges faced by film officers with others from around the world who are doing exactly the same thing. They will also earn Film Broken Hill accreditation from an internationally recognised organisation".

Film Broken Hill is currently developing promotion materials, a local production directory and website that will be marketed to the film & television Commercial industry later in the year.
